Bruning Applauds High Court Decision to Allow Public Prayers

LINCOLN – Attorney General Jon Bruning today applauded the U.S. Supreme Court decision to allow public prayers at town board meetings. In August 2013, Bruning joined an amicus brief in support of public prayer in Town of Greece, NY v. Galloway with 17 other state attorneys general.

“Today’s decision is a victory for faith,” said Bruning. “I applaud this decision that affirms Americans are free to pray.”
